

Compass

Delivering sustainable hydration with Aqua Libra.

Introduction

It is always exciting when we collaborate with businesses who encourage and value sustainability and hydration solutions for the wellbeing of employees and customers.

Compass Group, one of the UK and Ireland's top contract catering, hospitality, and business support services provider, pride themselves on delivering delicious and well-balanced food and beverages to multiple business sectors.

Their strive for greatness relies on building strong relationships with trusted suppliers and partners; whilst maintaining a level of sustainability and wellbeing for their employees.

Sustainability plays a huge part for their business, especially when it comes to hydration. Hydration has changed massively in the last 5 years; people are now seeing the benefits of drinking different types of water with added natural flavours over the sugary branded drinks.

Challenge

Charles Elliot, the General Manager at the Compass House, Chertsey which is the Global Headquarters of Compass Group; approached Aqua Libra Co, looking for a hydration partner whose business is equally committed to offering sustainable solutions.

Compass Group have set a goal to be Net Zero by 2030, so deciding on the right system for their business was a key factor when selecting the right choice for their head office.

The brief was to provide an engaging, yet sufficient hydration station for sustainability that was appealing to the eye and delivered a great tasting water.

The key to deliver a hydration station for their employees was a must! And to have the bonus of natural flavourings, making drinking water and staying hydrated more enjoyable.

Solution

The Aqua Libra team has installed, within Compass House, the digital dispense, Flavour Tap, which offers sustainable, healthy hydration straight to reusable vessels.

The unique micro-dose technology provides a refreshing, flavoursome beverage that all of their employees and visitors can enjoy time and time again.

Plus, the team can also check how much single-use plastic has been saved via the smart reporting and full analytics platform.

This means they have a visibility into employee flavor preferences, overall hydration levels, and what is really happening on-site.

"People in the building love it, they love the design, marketing, the actual dispenser, and the flavour of the water. We chose Aqua Libra Flavour Tap as there was no other brand on the market that could deliver a product we were looking for. Hydration has changed massively; people are now seeing the benefits of drinking different types of water, including still or sparkling filtered water with added natural flavours over the sugary branded drinks.

The Aqua Libra Flavour Tap is the perfect solution for our business; the design is great, works well and we can monitor the amount of single-use plastic we have managed to save at our site. We look forward to seeing more flavours in the future."

- Mr Charles Elliot, General Manager, Compass House

